A screenshot of a web form titled 'Add User'. The form contains a dropdown menu labeled 'Add User' with a downward arrow, two text input fields labeled 'Username :' and 'Password :', and a button labeled 'Add User'. Arrows point from various elements to descriptive text on the right: the dropdown menu to a choice box description, the 'Add User' button to 'Button to add the user', the 'Username :' field to 'Username text field initialized to empty', and the 'Password :' field to 'Password text field initialized to empty'. Additionally, three arrows point from the dropdown menu to boxes containing the numbers 3, 4, and 5, which are further described as 'If List Users is chosen', 'If Delete User is chosen', and 'If Add User is chosen' respectively.
